"For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven."

- Ecclesiastes 3:1

Change is a part of living. Individuals are affected by their environment and influenced by the people who surround them.

In its past and present, Trevecca has significantly impacted the development of her students. Hopefully, each has grown socially, academically, religiously, and in numerous other ways. Trevecca has provided the times and the events for bringing change.

Some things do not change. While her people and activities are continuously developing, the mission and nature of Trevecca remains the same. Trevecca is a Christian community committed to "providing an education for leadership and service."

STUDENT LIFE

A time to work and a time to play;
a time to cry and a time to laugh.

Interaction with peers helps in the process of change that occurs during the college years. Student life and social interaction are major aspects of being a university student. The fun times and close relationships shared with members of the college family are usually the most treasured memories of the college days.

Melanie Ramsey, Steve Bush, and Tracy Dersch enjoy the festivities at the All-School Christmas Party.

Give us a little more bass, Please.

Matt Spraker keeps the spirit of jolly old Saint Nick alive.

Jason Adkins recites poetry at Jernigan Java.

Sarah Milby, Kristina Johnson, and Susannah Sanford show off at the Back to School Bash.

Amy Snider escorts Shawn Mitterholzer at Mr. TNU.

Drew Johnson gets intimate with women's fashion.

Derric West , Sam Vetter, and Jeremy Lefevers scope out the activities at the All-School Christmas Party.

ALL-SCHOOL RETREAT

For a busy student, a retreat is a time for putting aside homework and the worries of school and focusing on the more enjoyable aspects of being in college. Trevecca students had a chance to do this at the All-School Retreat that was held in the fall. They enjoyed canoeing, capture the flag, an excellent speaker, and a wide variety of other activities and events.

Greg Voiles, student chaplain, speaks to Matt Spraker and Angela Vick.

It's not everyday that you find three attractive blonds together.

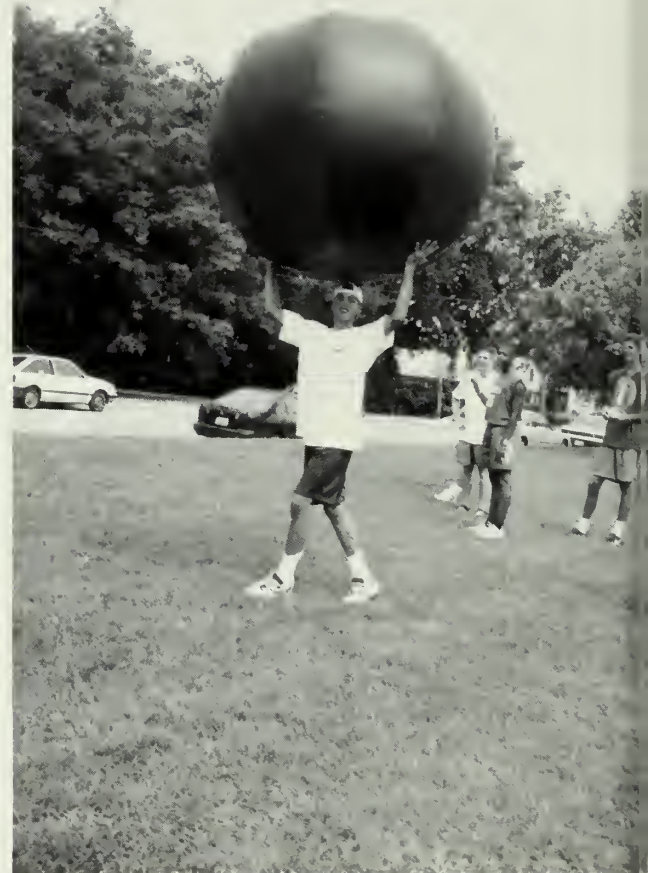

Michael Shea, Amy Wright, Summer Roberts, and Mary Suites enjoy each other's company.

Bob Milburn pumps up the beach ball.

Students watch TNU beach volleyball players set up.

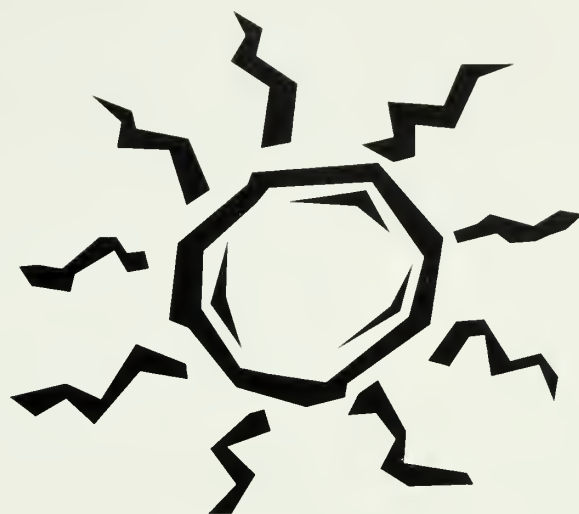

Jason Hatley plays He-Man.

his Christmas wish list.

Wes Craft contemplates whether or not he will join the reindeer games.

Matt Spraker shows fatigue at the close of another successful All-School Christmas Party.

Who says we are too old to sit on Santa's lap?

See what a poodle shirt can do!

Rick James rocks out to "Santa,- Be-Good."

Shawn Mitterholzer and his band rock the stage at the first Jernigan Java.

Several TNU ladies serve up the coffee and snacks at Jernigan Java.

Brandon Knight recites poetry.

JERNIGAN JAVA

Kara Jones, Ann Cozine, Kim Warren, and Elizabeth Keeton listen to the performers.

MR. TNU

Alex Baker dazzles the crowd with his comedy routine.

Catherine Bowers escorts Adam Twining.

Destin Weishaar tries unsuccessfully to steal a kiss from Jenni Jones.

Jenny Davis escorts Stephen Hicks.

Mr. TNU is a talent contest sponsored by the sophomore class. The contestants are male representatives from each class. The healthy competition between these males makes it a night of fun for both the audience and the students involved. This year Destin Weishaar was awarded the title of Mr. TNU.

TNT (Top Nazarene Talent) is a regional event sponsored by Trevecca. During four days in April, high school and junior high students from across the Southeast come to Trevecca and compete with each other in many different areas. Besides the competition, there are many other events planned for the students, including the opening celebration. This celebration gives TNU students a chance to perform for the students involved in TNT.

On the Campus

1. To leave the campus, students are expected to get permission from the appropriate dormitory dean and to sign the dean's daily register.
2. Resident students may not leave the city without the permission of their respective deans.
3. Day students while on the campus must conform to resident-student rules. Behavior of day students while away from the campus is observed and is subject to regulation.
4. Bells on the campus ring as follows:
 - a. Rising bell, at 6:30 a.m. Students who must rise earlier for industrial work are requested to remain as quiet as possible.
 - b. Breakfast bell, at 7:00 a.m.
 - c. Class bells for college students ring on the hour; tardy bells, five minutes later.
 - d. Chapel bells ring at 10:55 and 11:00 a.m. for opening and at 11:45 a.m. for closing the exercises.
 - e. Study bell rings at 7:00 p.m.
 - f. Study dismissal bell, at 9:30 p.m.
 - g. Lights-out bell rings at 10:30 p.m.
 - h. Wednesday evening prayermeeting bell rings at 7:30 p.m.; bells for all other prayermeetings, at 6:15 p.m.
 - i. Friday evening social period bells ring at 7:30 p.m. and 10:30 p.m.
 - j. Sunday evening social period bells ring at 5:00 p.m. and 10:00 p.m.

PEOPLE

A time to be born and a time to die;
a time to embrace and a time to withdraw.

The story of Trevecca is the story of her people.
Faces of students are constantly changing. New students come and go over periods of time. Each student matures in a unique way as the seasons of university life unfold.

1997 Darda Dedication

Carl Eby currently serves Trevecca in the capacity of the Supervisor of Audio Visual Services. He is a man who does not merely work for the institution, but he also believes in what it stands for and carries these beliefs out in his daily life. With the dedication of the 1996-1997 Darda we at Trevecca thank Carl Eby for his commitment to Trevecca and his dedication to the institution over the last twenty-five years.

Carl and Marty Eby on their wedding day in 1962

Many seasons have come and gone while I have been at Trevecca--different kinds of seasons both in my life and the life of the school.

When I came to TNC in the summer of '73 my wife and I had three small boys. We added a girl in '77. Now they are all grown and married and we have nine grandchildren. In those early days I had lots of hair and two good legs. I too have changed.

There have been a lot of changes at TNU over the years. I have worked under three presidents of the college, seen three buildings taken down and three new ones added. I have worked under three deans of the college and five department heads. My office has been moved five times. And there have been many, many students who have worked for me and student leaders I have worked with. We moved lots of 16mm and filmstrip projectors around in those early days. Now it's TVs and data projectors.

I have enjoyed working at Trevecca. More seasons will come and go. More students, faculty, and administrators will come and leave. The only thing that doesn't change is God. Psalm 121:1-3,7&8 says:

"I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth. He will not suffer thy foot to be moved: he that keepeth thee will not slumber. The Lord shall preserve thy soul. The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore."

“My time at Trevecca has been so many things to me. It has been a time of building friendships that will last for eternity, of growing up and learning that life is about being in a relationship with both God and other people, and of trusting God with every aspect of my life and my future. I would not give anything for my time here because I have had the time of my life!”

- Jennifer Finch

Rick Lord's Memory of Trevecca:

“I was stepping over my chair in the lunchroom and tripped while holding my tray. As I was falling, my face began heading towards a plate of mash potatoes, but Owen Vansyckle grabbed my back belt loop and held me up. He kept me from completely embarrassing myself in front of the entire cafeteria.”

“

Trevecca has given me friendships and memories, both of which I will cherish. I am thankful that God has placed Trevecca in my life.

- Matthew Mullins

David Sander's Views

ON LIFE:

"It is good to take hold of the one and not let go of the other. The man who fears God will avoid all extremes."
Ecclesiastes 7:18

ON MY TREVECCA EXPERIENCE:

"... while I was still searching but not finding--I found one upright man among a thousand, but not one upright woman among a thousand."

Ecclesiastes 7:28

"I eagerly expect and hope that I will in no way be ashamed, but will have sufficient courage so that now as always Christ will be exalted in my body, whether by life or by death. For to me, to live is Christ and to die is gain."

Philippians 1:20-21

KEELY RENEE

B R O A D B O O K S

I'd rather be unseen, and if then shunned by everyone,
than to be a pleasant-smelling flower, growing in clusters in the fertile valley, where they're praised, handled, and plucked by greedy, human hands.

I'd rather smell of musty, green stench than of sweet, fragrant lilac.
If I could stand alone, strong and free,
I'd rather be a tall, ugly weed.

SOPHOMORES

At the beginning of this year the sophomore class council made an extra effort to welcome the incoming freshmen to Trevecca. This was a fun way for us to get the new year started. We helped move them into the dorms and tried to be helpful in other ways. I also had the unique opportunity to be a teacher's aid to one of the college life classes. It was very neat to share my experiences from my first year at Trevecca with the new students and try to help them through theirs.

-Lori McLerran

“

Trevecca has become my home away from home. I have matured both physically and spiritually my first two years here. I have made life-long friends because of the community atmosphere. I would not trade anything for the time I have spent at Trevecca.

ACADEMICS

A time to teach and a time to learn;
a time to seek and a time to reflect.

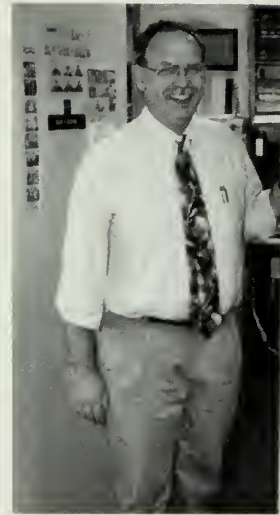

The acquisition of knowledge and the development of new skills are among the most important changes that occur during the college years. Teachers, textbooks, and classroom experiences are the facilitators for change. Education helps a person prepare for a career but also helps the individual grow into an intelligent, insightful, creative human being.

Dr. Timothy Cierpke discusses the exciting events that he has planned for the Trevecca Symphony Orchestra.

Professor Green helps students to better understand the Bible in his Bib Faith class.

Dr. Spaulding takes his class on a journey through theology.

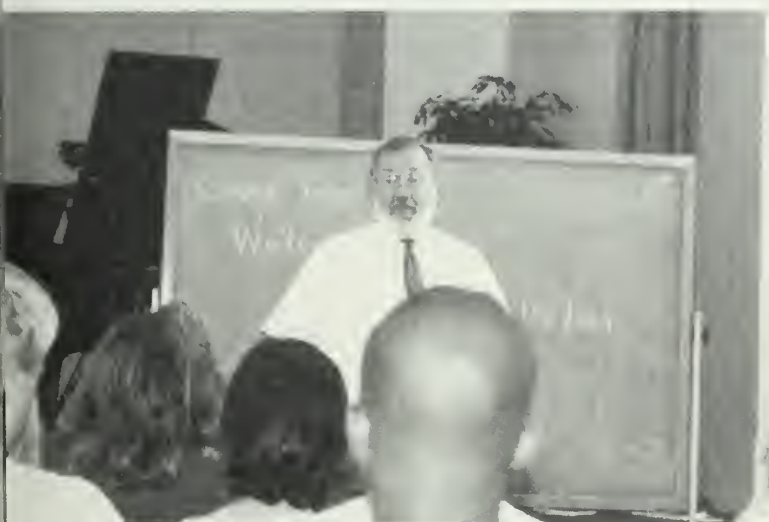

Dr. Spross prepares students for ministry.

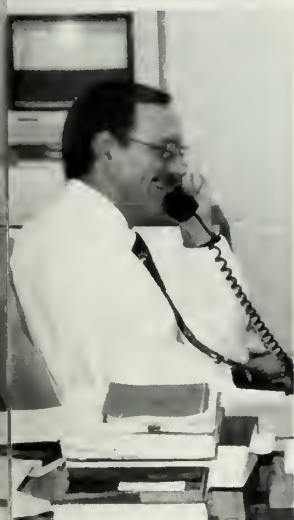

Don Kintner strolls across campus.

Dr. Wilma Johnson discusses the improved computer system with her class.

Professor Oliver explains the meaning of being a musician.

Dr. Jim Hiatt chairs the Business Department.

The Division of Business and Management includes the Department of Business Administration, the Department of Management and Human Relations, and the Graduate Management Program. A bachelor of business administration degree with concentrations in business administration, accounting, computer information systems, music business, economics/finance, marketing/management, and general business is offered for traditional students. Non-traditional baccalaureate and master's degree programs in management are offered for working adult students.

A major goal of the division is to enable students to develop strong competencies in their chosen career fields, thereby preparing them to make positive contributions to their professions and society. Programs focus on fulfilling the mission of the University by seeking to develop business leaders and managers who understand and appreciate Christ's call to servanthood as the foundation of effective leadership.

Communication students listen attentively in class.

The Department of Communication Studies offers broad training in the general area of human communication. The curriculum provides considerable flexibility and is designed to fit a variety of student needs and career interests. There are five specialized majors which lead to the bachelor's degree: 1) dramatic arts, 2) speech, 3) mass communications, 4) interpersonal communications and human relations, and 5) intercultural communication. The Department also offers a bachelor's degree in the general "Communication Studies" major consisting of courses selected from the specialized programs listed above. This Communication Studies major makes an effective double major for those who have chosen their vocations and is often recommended by other departments. (1996-1997 Catalog)

Wes Craft is one of TNU's very talented drama majors.

The Division of Education includes the undergraduate Teacher Education Programs, Post Baccalaureate, and Graduate Studies in Education. Programs which lead to licensure include the grade levels K-8, 1-8, K-12, and 7-12, as well as the post baccalaureate and master's degrees in education. To fulfill the mission of the University, the educational programs are designed to facilitate student growth. The purpose of the programs is to produce teachers who have foundational skills, knowledge, and abilities on which to build and to further progress through higher developmental stages. In order to accomplish this, the professional education programs are based on essential knowledge, established and current research, and sound professional practice.

The Department of English offers a variety of coursework leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree in English or English Education, as well as minors in English and journalism. Through a series of three general education courses in English, all Trevecca students receive instruction in writing and literature studies during their first two years. Tutoring and enrichment programs in basic writing and grammar are available through the Center for Individualized Studies.

As a capstone to the major, all English majors work with a faculty advisor to prepare either a scholarly paper or a collection of creative writing which is presented in a public lecture or performance. Recent projects included original plays, dramatic readings of poetry and fiction, and programs integrating music, slides, and literary texts.

Sarah Lutter helps to get the props together for the Opera Workshop's performance of sections from several operettas.

The Department of Music offers majors in music within a liberal arts setting with emphasis in church music, music business, performance and music education. Career and service opportunities in music include serving as ministers of music, church soloists, pianists, organists, and choir directors, teaching in public and private schools and colleges which offer programs in vocal or instrumental music, private lessons, professional singing and playing in symphonies, opera, orchestras, and various aspects of the music industry.

The Music Department's educational philosophy is based on the premise that a student must experience the performing of music. Therefore, each degree program offers opportunities to perform with either vocal or instrumental groups on campus in addition to the basic core of music courses. There are nine performing ensembles in the Music Department: Ambassadors, Concert Choir, Treble Tones, Madrigalians, Choral Union, Trevecca Symphony Orchestra, Wind Ensemble, Jazz Ensemble, and University Handbell Ringers. Buzz Sheridan is the sports information director for the Department of Physical Education.

The primary goal of the Department of Health and Physical Education is to meet the physical, mental, emotional, and social needs of its students in a Christian environment. This goal is met through avenues which include activity courses for non-majors, professional education courses for majors, and intramural sports which provide opportunities for all.

Students have the following choices: 1) a major in physical education (teaching); 2) a major in sport and exercise science; 3) minors in physical education, health education, and coaching. Physical education teaching majors can obtain a second licensure in health education if desired.

A physician assistant (PA) is a skilled health practitioner qualified by academic and clinical experience to provide a broad range of medical services under the direction and supervision of a licensed physician. PAs, working with physicians, provide a broad range of services in a variety of practice settings from rural communities to metropolitan areas.

The physician assistant degree, established in 1976, was developed to train assistants to the primary care physician to work in areas of Christian service in the United States and in the field of mission service abroad. The PA Department at Trevecca is fully accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Allied Health Education Programs (CAAHEP) and is the only accredited PA training program in Tennessee. An entering class of 33 students is selected annually to begin studies in August. The department welcomes students of other religious affiliations who subscribe to the ideals of the University and who qualify under its standards.

The Division of Religion and Philosophy offers undergraduate majors in religion and religious studies. The Religion major provides a curriculum to prepare persons both for various areas of Christian service and for graduate study in religion. The student majoring in religion may focus in one of five professional tracks: pastoral ministry, Christian education, youth ministry, compassionate ministry or worship ministry. The requirements for the Pastoral Ministry track are designed to meet the requirements for ordination as elder in the Church of the Nazarene. Likewise, the requirements for the Christian education, youth ministry and worship ministry tracks are designed to meet the requirements for deacon's orders in the Church of the Nazarene. The division serves the University in the general education area by providing introductory level courses in Bible, doctrine and philosophy as well as a senior seminar designed to integrate faith, learning, and Christian living.

We are planning to open a Bible Training School here next fall. There is a wide field for such work. Many persons who feel distinctly called to missionary, evangelistic and other branches of Christian work are unable to take a thorough college course, but they can avail themselves of a shorter and more practical course of study.

Toby Williams stands by the chair that he received for his years of dedication and hard work at Trevecca.

History and the social and behavioral sciences have always been important areas of study at Trevecca Nazarene University. Historians and social scientists alike believe that the perceptions of people different from ourselves in time, space, and life-expressions are built upon our understanding of our own social and political experience. The department's goal, therefore, is to promote understanding of modern societies through the methods of the historian, the social scientist, and the psychologist. Students desiring to enter the professional fields of teaching, historic preservation, museum-related work, law enforcement, social work, criminal justice, personnel management, behavioral research, and all levels of government service select history, history/political science, psychology, behavioral science, social science, or sociology as major fields. In addition, minors in history, political science, psychology, behavioral science, social science, or sociology may be selected to back up work in any area of study.

The B.A. in Management and Human Relations is an evening program designed for adult learners 25 years or older. The major, which is interdisciplinary and social science based, consists of 28 semester hours of course work and a 6-semester-hour applied research project. Sixty-two (62) semester hours of college work are required for entry into the program. Of the 62 hours, 30 hours must meet specific general education criteria. Thirty-two hours of the 128 semester hours required for graduation may be earned through prior learning credit and/or additional college course work.

ORGANIZATIONS & ACTIVITIES

A time to be separate and a time to unite;
a time to keep silent and a time to speak.

Collective change often has the most significant impact. The University is people, but it is also groups of individuals who share common interests, goals, and abilities. Involvement in campus groups contributes to the development of each student and enhances the quality of life for the community as a whole.

Noelle Adams and Stephanie Ribis rehearse for the "Bravo Beethoven" concert.

Candi Ellis poses in her volleyball uniform.

Trevecca's Student Government cuts loose after a meeting.

For their opening concert of the school year, the Trevecca Symphony Orchestra gave a wonderful performance under the stars.

David Blanford shoots for a three-pointer during an exciting Trojan basketball game.

The drama "My Fair Lady" was presented at Trevecca in the fall.

Brad Twigg warms up before the start of a baseball game.

"In the mid-1940s, one of the major concerns on Trevecca's campus had to do with student life. There had been a movement on the part of the students for student organizations and self-government. This was considered dangerous by some members of the faculty and administration, but several administrators including Dr. A.B. Mackey held different views. In 1944, the first steps were taken toward student government. A Student Advisory Council was authorized. One person from each of the college classes, the high school, and Department of Religion was elected to this council. Margaret Doggett was elected president of the Council and became the first student representative to the Administration. Although the authority of the Student Government was very limited, in comparison with Student Government today, it became the first contact of the students as a whole with the faculty."

They earned $800 for the March of Dimes through sponsoring "Blue Jeans for Babies" and helped purchase personal supplies for several Bosnian refugees. They also were able to use their business skills at the state Phi Beta Lambda convention, earning six first place awards and the Tennessee Spirit Award.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

Over the past four years our Trojan Men's Basketball team, under the coaching of Sam Harris, has improved its record from only five wins to this year's record of 19-13. This season the men's basketball team beat three nationally ranked teams: Birmingham Southern, David Lipscomb, and Union.

Graduating senior David Blanford ended an excellent season by earning many awards and honors including Trevecca's #1 all-time assist leader and third-team All-American. What a great cap to an outstanding TNU "hoops" season!

Jamandas Moore displays one of his many crowd pleasing dunk shots.

Enthusiastic fans show their support at the homecomig game.

Trevecca's win against Lipscomb was the first time that TNU has beaten Lipscomb since the '86-'87 season.

Charles Wade jumps for the ball during an exciting game.

The team lines up for a free throw.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The Lady Trojans began their first season with much enthusiasm and spirit, and this spirit continued throughout the season. The team ended the season with four wins. Two Trojans finished the season with especially exceptional honors. Leigh Ann Meadows finished tenth in the nation in free throw percentage, and Missy Oakley was named to the TranSouth All-American team. We look forward to seeing the Lady Trojans have an exciting second season.

Christina Dunn, Catherine Bowers, Missy Oakley, Dena Rone, Hanna Kjartansdottir, Bonnie Bartlet, Leigh Ann Meadows, Julie van Beek--Head Coach, Nathan Johnson--Assistant Coach, Leah Neblett, Jessica Lacey, and Jade Medders

Leah Neblett shoots through the tunnel made by her teammates at the start of the game.

Hanna Kjartansdottir shows good defense for the Lady Trojans.

Jade Medders looks enthusiastic as she passes her team-mates.

The team huddles together to build up spirit for the start of the game.

BASEBALL

The Trevecca Nazarene University Baseball Program began a new era in 1997. Under the leadership of new head coach Ryan Gray, the team began rebuilding a once-prominent baseball program. Suffering the loss of six everyday starters and two starting pitchers, the team worked hard to overcome those hardships and rebuild the spirit and enthusiasm for the game that once was and is beginning to be again an integral part of Trevecca Baseball.

Next year, we at TNU look forward to an exciting second season under the new coaching staff.

Miller, Will Rand, Jason Hatley, Billy Aviles, Chris Hendrix, and Brad Turner

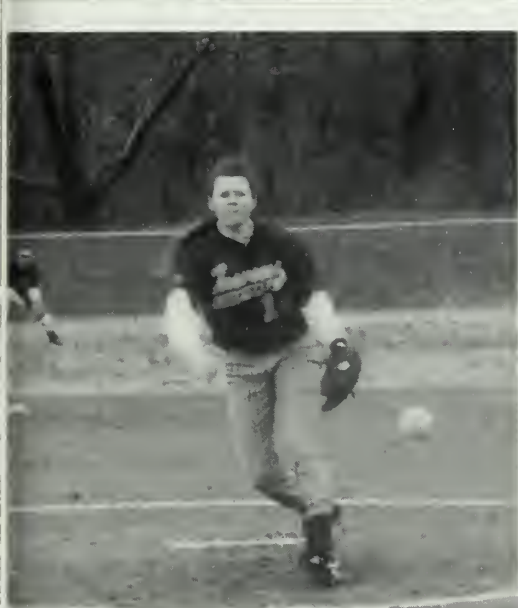

SOFTBALL

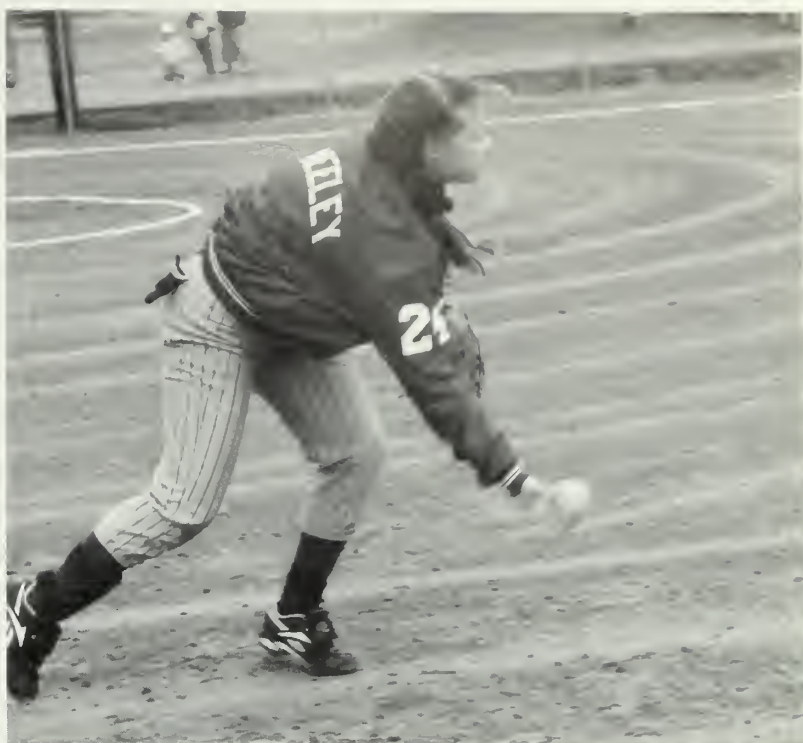

The 1996-1997 Trevecca Nazarene Fastpitch Softball Team was coached by Renae Kirkhart and Paul Wiggs. They put together a team of returning and first-year players. This year four seniors led the forces: short stop Brandy Barnett, second baseman Missy Oakley, first baseman Martha Herndon, and pitcher/outfielder Leslie Lockwood. Newcomers to the team this year were Lisa Barnes, Dana Hooper, Katrina Quick, Holly Strickland, and Stephanie Yazzie. New assistant coaches added this year were Lesley Chevalier and Louie Johnston. We look forward to another exciting season next year.

The first Darda was printed in 1924. It was dedicated to J.O. McClurkan.

Volume number 73 of the Trevecca Nazarene University Darda was printed by Jostens Printing and Publishing Company. A total of 650 books were printed. The cost of the yearbook is covered in the general fee which each full-time student pays at the beginning of each semester.
